Storsack Dorton, based in Thirsk in the UK, is one of the leading suppliers of bulk bags to the UK aggregates industry. We have and continue to invest considerable resources in R&D, product development and procedures to ensure consistent product conformance. Our clear commitment to our customers is to deliver value.

We are pleased to bring to your attention two recent developments :

TUNNEL LIFT FIBC'S

Storsack were the first Company to launch the Tunnel Lift bag into the Aggregate sector. We have experienced a huge interest in this product; not least because of the advantages the design affords in terms of; ease of single man handling; Health & Safety implications on site; economic and environmental benefits of transportation without the need for wooden pallets. For further details please see our product data sheet attached. We are now pleased to announce that our UK patent no. 2420337 has been granted and was published earlier this month.

FIBC TESTING

Our group R&D service is headquartered in Rheine, Germany, where we have a modern fully equipped laboratory for conducting all types of bag testing. We are proud to inform you that our laboratory has recently been accredited by EFIBCA (the European Flexible Intermediate Bulk Container Association) to conduct all the relevant FIBC testing and to issue product certificates according to the EFIBCA and ISO21898 standards. This places our test house in a similar category to Laboradata, BVI and OFI as an approved and independent laboratory for bag testing. To guarantee product conformity, regular inspection and testing is recommended and it is in this way we aim to capitalise on the benefits of this unique advantage.

Thank you for your continued business and we look forward to continuing to supply you with FIBC's of the highest quality at competitive prices. If you have any enquiries, requests for quotations or questions in future, please do not hesitate to contact one of our dedicated sales administrators who will be more than pleased to help; external sales Jill Baker 07970 209776, main contact Trudi Dewhirst 01845 576012, trudi.dewhirst@storsack.co.uk.
